tion and Powers There Represented.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Appointment of a subcommittee headed by Senator Lodge of the American delegation to consider the question of extra-territorial rights in China was announced today by the Pacific and Far Eastern committees of the Washington conference. The Chinese delegation presented a detailed statement regarding China's position as to extra-territorial rights which statement was characterized as "reasonable" by the representatives of the other powers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The arms conference discussion of Far Eastern questions shifted today to the possibility of abolishing the system of extra-territorial rights under which the territorial rights under which the foreign governments maintain their own judicial systems in China for the trial of cases in which their respective nationals are involved.

China wants the privilege abolished altogether, although her delegates are not indicated that whether the present judicial machinery of the Chinese government would make it possible to withdraw the foreign tribunals immediately. All the other nations concerned have expressed a hope that something can be done toward modifying the present system and have evidenced a feeling that nothing of a very sweeping character is warranted just now.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Belief was gaining ground today among foreign delegates that the armaments and Far Eastern conference might adjourn the first fortnight of December, to give time to the delegates to go home for Christmas. Some members have already secured passage aboard the Aquitania, sailing from New York December 13. In the interval of the adjournment the committee and sub-committee of experts could continue their work to have resolution ready on the reassembling of the conference.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Aristide Briand, premier of France, was a passenger on the steamship Paris, sailing today for Havre on his trip home after utilizing the position of his country as a regard to the limitation of armaments before the Washington conference. He was in Washington only a few days more than two weeks but while here he played a vital part in the conference, his address outlining France's position for maintaining a large standing army being one of the high spots of the last week's proceedings. He expressed himself as quite satisfied with the results of the conference thus far, especially respecting France.

FATE OF "CHECK-OFF"Is Sealed in Public Estimation, Says Organ of the Coal Trade.

Whatever the ultimate fate of the "check-off" decision on the back-of-innovator as the legal phases of the question are concerned, his ruling has fixed public attention upon that feature of the wage agreements between the United Mine Workers of America and the operators in the extended district in a way that could not be good for the existing scheme of making the producers the collection agency for the mine workers' union, says the Coal Trade Journal. Whether the higher courts sustain the Indianapolis ruling or not, the days of the check-off are numbered, he goes to which the funds are devoted have been put in West Virginia, a Kansas and in Alabama condemn a system in the public eye.

Red Cross Roll
Call Will Go on
For Several Days

Roll call headquarters of the American Red Cross, Fayette county chapter, at Uniontown, are determined that every person in the county shall have an opportunity to do his or her "bit" for the work of the Fayette county chapter.

With that determination, the annual roll call will be continued for several days yet. Reports received at headquarters Wednesday and yesterday indicated that the canvass had not been completed in some districts and that in others there were many persons who desired to add donations to the Fayette county chapter in addition to their membership. They now have this opportunity.

J. W. Abraham, head of the special committee appointed to canvass, larger donations from the work of the Fayette county chapter, already is receiving quite a few checks from corporations and individuals with larger incomes. The committee has been handicapped somewhat in its work because of the illness of Mr. Abraham, who is suffering from a cold, but the committee will be especially active this week and indications are that substantial amounts will be reported. The appeal to the corporations and business enterprises of the county as well as to persons with large incomes is especially pertinent this year because of the "readjustment" in industrial conditions and headquarters feels that all of these interests should contribute as liberally as possible in order that they may make up somewhat for the support of those less fortunately situated. And the support of those less fortunate in possession of the world's goods most certainly is a powerful appeal in the present campaign for hundreds have enrolled to whom even the dollar memberships have been a very real sacrifice.

Campaigns in several mining districts have been held in abeyance upon requests until pay days. These solicitations will be completed next week. There is still a chance to assist the Red Cross in a very substantial manner and it is the belief of roll call headquarters that these final appeals will bear fruit in a most gratifying manner.

CALL TO TEACHERS*Governor Issues Proclamation

cation Week.*DATE DECEMBER 4 TO 10TH*Will Be Observed Throughout Country

American Legion Posts Are Joining Heardily in Movement Everywhere.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 25.—Pennsylvania school teachers are called upon to impress on pupils "the mighty events of history" occurring lately and the importance of the disamament conference at Washington by Governor Sproul in a proclamation for observance of Educational Week. The governor calls attention to the public of the importance of the times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—Because the schoolroom is the cradle of the nation, because the foundation of every state is the education of its youth, the National Americanism Commission of The American Legion and the National Education association have joined hands to promote a national education and thereby strengthen and perpetuate a better Americanism, build a more intelligent and better citizenry and withal, equip the youth of the nation more adequately to cope with life and force ahead the interests and achievements of the entire United States.

The initial effort is to be made with the inauguration of "American Education Week," December 4 to 10, which is to be fittingly observed in every state in the union, every city and every community. Governors of states, mayors of cities and towns, every section of the country have already issued proclamation, urging the citizens to observe this week in a fitting way and bend their energies toward the successful accomplishment of its objectives.

This is but the initial step in the elaborate plan of the two organizations working together for the accomplishment of their joint objective—better education and better Americanism. Each year this week is to be observed. As progress is made, situations clarified, definite plans will crystallize and modify into perfected programs for this accomplishment.

Throughout the nation on Sunday, December 4, ministers will preach upon the urgent need for better education. From all over the country come eager acceptance of the invitation to preach upon this subject. And throughout the week, the press, pulpit, educators, patriotic bodies, national clubs, community clubs and other civic bodies will cooperate to make the plan a splendid success.

The main purposes of the week are to inform the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools, particularly of the urgent needs, and to secure cooperation and support of the public in meeting these needs and to teach and foster good Americanism.

Among the topics already selected by communities in every quarter of the United States for the observance of this week are these: "American Ideals and Americanism," "National Contributions to our Immigrant Citizens—Their Pride in Our Country and its Principles," "Civilization," "American Patriotism," "Civil and Military Heroes," "The School and the Nation," "Education, the Greatest Investment for Community, State and Nation," "How Education May be Promoted," "The Community's Responsibility Toward the School and Ways and Means for Promoting Better Education, Better Americanism."

AUSTRIA'S DEBT OF GRATITUDE IS
PAID BY SURGEON*Dr. Adolph Lorenz, Trained in Europe, Holding Free Clinics in the United States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Cripples in wheel chairs, in automobiles and on crutches strolled the Hospital of Joint Diseases today when Dr. Adolph Lorenz, famous Austrian surgeon, held the first of a series of clinics for the city's disabled.

So great was the congestion that hospital authorities found it necessary to summon police reserves to handle the crowd. The first patient arrived long before dawn, working his painful way up the hospital steps on twisted hands and knees and waiting inside for a warm place to wait until the noted healer could see him.

An hour before the lowering gray boarded surgeon arrived more than 200 persons had taken their places in lines, mothers and fathers supporting their children, adults hobbling along at best they could. Automobiles and wheel chairs lined the street outside.

Dr. Lorenz performed one operation to rectify a condition of knuckled knees in a 12-year-old boy, schooling through the bone, then re-setting it then easing the patient from shoulder to feet in a plaster cast. Following the operation, watched by a score of American surgeons, he proceeded swiftly from room to room, prescribing treatment for some of the sufferers and making appointments for operations in other cases. He examined about 100, the others, estimated at nearly 1,000 were told they would have to come back for later clinics. Almost destitute himself as a result of the war Dr. Lorenz is holding free clinics here and will hold them in other cities as a testimonial of gratitude for the aid rendered by America to Austria's starving children.

TOKIO, Nov. 25.—Crown Prince Hirohito has been designated regent of Japan.

Designation of Crown Prince as regent of Japan follows reports which have been in circulation for about a year that Emperor Yoshihito was in bad physical condition.

FRANCE TO READ*Premier Would Have Risked Office Had He Agreed to Land Disarmament.*WAS ALL PREARRANGED*No Cause for Pessimism to Successful Outcome of Conference Over Demand of Premier That Nation Be Permitted to Maintain Large Army.

By Mark Sullivan.
National Political Correspondent of The Courier and the New York Post.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Probably persons close to the situation fall into a state of mind where they take for granted things that the more distant public does not see so clearly. Few of us in Washington—at least few of the Americans who are distracted—share the pessimism which seems to have colored public discussion of the disarmament conference during the last day or two. This pessimism seems to have started with Briand's speech at noon on Tuesday. Properly understood, Briand's speech is not a cause for pessimism. More truly it is a cause for optimism in that it was a final expression or a spirit of compromise within the conference.

To understand Briand's speech you must understand that he was talking primarily for France to hear rather than for the conference. Briand is Premier of France and his hold on that office is precarious. In France, they have a practice difficult for Americans to understand. In France, when a premier does or says something unpopular, he goes out of office automatically. For example, if the letter that President Harding wrote to Congress asking for lower surtaxes had been written by Briand to the French Chamber of Deputies, and if the Chamber of Deputies had done what our Congress did, namely, refused to follow Harding's lead, then Briand, if he were the premier of France, would have gone out of office automatically and the leader of the opposition would have taken his place.

Most of the foreign delegates to the conference who followed this episode in Congress were puzzled to understand how it was that the day after that episode Mr. Harding was still in the White House. Briand in his speech on Tuesday had to avoid saying anything that might have caused the present exigencies of French politics to him out of office before he left America. The French would what American politicians call "a letter to print" speech. It was designed, as many speeches in Congress are designed, not to affect pending legislation, but to be read by the voters back home.

The other members of the conference understood Mr. Briand's position perfectly and, as politicians, sympathized with it. They were entirely willing to let him take a position which was practically a refusal to submit to limitation of armaments on its failure.

France expected Briand to get something big out of the conference. She expected him to bring home a guarantee of support from Great Britain and the United States. It did not take Briand long to learn that he could not get that. Since he had to go home empty handed, the conference was quite willing he should be permitted to make the speech he did. That was all carefully arranged beforehand.

It is true there is a good deal of feeling between the British and the French, and between the British and the French. Both those nations feel more resentment over Mr. Briand's speech than either of them has publicly uttered. There was gossip within the conference room to the effect that when the Italian chief delegate replied to Mr. Briand's speech, it had been his intention to do some plain talking. But any bellicose intentions he may have had were made impossible by the generosity of the speech in which Mr. Balfour replied. Mr. Balfour was undoubtedly using the arts of diplomacy, and if he had expressed the true feelings of the British he would have talked with some heat.

Nevertheless, Mr. Balfour and the others who are really dominant in the conference understood the situation and are willing to let the situation in the give of France's military establishment wait. Great Britain's feeling about France is not so deeply directed toward the size of her army, but in a larger degree at her attitude about economic matters on the continent of Europe. As between France and Italy, however, there is real feeling about the size of their respective armies. Italy's policy is, however, that sooner or later France and Italy will get together on this subject and hold a little "bush league" conference of their own. As at economic matters, neither of these two nations can continue to bear the burden of an unduly heavy military establishment. Time and the potent influence of taxation will take care of that.

A good deal of the spirit of pessimism entertained by some persons here today arises from the fact that many of those who are recording the events of the conference for the public Continued on Page Two.

are pretty hard worked. H. G. Wells confessed that the general mood is affected "by congestion, mental and physical, and by sheer fatigue." He says "there is no rest in Washington, no cessation," and sighs for the time, a year ago, when he was "a happy invalid" beneath the sunny skies of Aynali. He complains that here in Washington he must "live to the tune of a telephone bell, and the little feverish American hours slip through my hot, dry hands before I can turn my thoughts around. I wish I could attend to everything."

Nevertheless everything is going all right. Before the conference opened, one of the foreigners said to me, "Mr. Hughes made one mistake that no British statesman would have made, in that in making his preparations for the conference he failed to include a good long vacation for himself." Since then this foreigner and many others have had the opportunity to see Mr. Hughes in action, and I don't believe they feel that he is in any need of a vacation.

If Farmers Will Not Allow Hunting Lands Will Not Be Stocked

HARRISBURG, Nov. 25.—Game officers throughout Pennsylvania have been instructed to notify the State Game Commission of land owners farmers and men in charge of lands who have refused to permit hunting on properties after they have been stocked with quail rabbits and other game at public expense with the understanding that the lands were to be open to hunting.

This day has followed investigation of complaints which has developed in some counties of agreements made at the time of stocking were broken this year. Several instances being found where owners so letted game and after agreeing to open lands posted notices closing them.

"Land owners have taken advantage of the liberal attitude of the state and after seeking game have not kept agreements," said Seth L. Gordon secretary of the commission. In some cases men on whose land game was placed induced owners of adjoining lands to unite in a general closing and have in effect secured exclusive hunting rights. I am dissatisfied complaints of hunters are well founded and we will not distribute game so that such people have the sole advantage. The game we have ordered will be placed on open land or on lands which will be opened. The people who have failed to keep agreements will get none of it.

Driven From Home By Mob, Alien Miner Asks Big Damages

Charges of intimidation and other unfair and illegal acts growing out of the mob action in June against foreign-born miners employed by the Ayrshire District Collieries company of Francisco, Gibson county, Indiana, are contained in a suit for $50,000 damages filed recently in the Federal court by Peter Krocak, of Francisco, against H. R. Barnes and 15 others. The plaintiff says he was driven from his home and family by a mob June 10, and that he has been without employment and separated from his family and possessions since that time. Krocak asserts that he is a member of the United Mine Workers of America and that he is a subject of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, and that he lived in Chicago until June 1, when he obtained employment as a miner with the Ayrshire District Collieries company at $7.50 a day. He asserts that the defendants and other persons held a mass meeting at the public school building in Francisco June 9 for the purpose of deciding on ways and means of forcing him and his family to leave the community. The mob which drove Krocak from his home included a minister, postmaster of the town, a school teacher, merchants and town officials.

The government has won in the Court of Claims a suit for $999,000 growing out of the commandeering in October, 1917, of the entire output of the Allegheny Steel company.
Also in a suit brought by the J. W. McDonald Coal Mining company to recover $58,000 alleged to have been lost through the action of the Fuel Administration fixing a maximum price for coal in August, 1917.

Mine Workers Cannot Be Sued.
The Arkansas Supreme court has affirmed a decision of the lower court denying $100,000 damages to the widow of a miner who, it is claimed, was killed by strikers. The latter were said to be members of the United Mine Workers and suit was brought against that organization to recover the sum specified. The court held that the United Mine Workers, as a voluntary unincorporated association, could not sue or be sued in Arkansas.

High School Ends Football Season With Victory Over Dunbar Twp.; Score 6-0

Locals Make Touchdown in Last Period After Failing in First.

WHIPKEY MAKES BIG RUN

Playing under extremely unfavorable conditions the Connelville high school ended its football season yesterday with the Dunbar Township High aggregation at Fayette Field. The gridiron was a sea of mud and fans that were fans stood in it while youths who play the game for the love of sport ran, slid and fell in the oozy slushy surface of the field. The final score was 6-0 Connelville the team scoring in the last period when Solson carried it across in an off tackle play.

The Cokers had their goal threatened once when considerable line plunging plus a penalty placed the ball on the three-yard line. Here the defense stiffened and the township eleven lost the ball on a fumble. It was the repetition of a similar misfortune which had happened to Connelville a little earlier in the game.

The ball was very hard to handle and resulted in a number of fumbles. The playing of both sides was marred by this handicap. Halfbacks found it difficult to elude the ends and a line-bucking game was resorted to in a large measure. The Cokers also opened up with some forward passes.

The Cokers started out strong at the beginning when they rushed the ball to the four-yard line without much of a halt. Here the ball was fumbled and an opportunity had down. At another time Whipkey picked up the ball when the man carrying it fumbled as he was tackled. The full-back ran 80 yards for a score but Referee Herwick ruled he had blown the whistle before the fumble which made the ball dead.

Playing his final game under the Orange and Black banner, Quarter-back Solson wrote his name in undying ink on the honor roll by making his last touchdown the winning one. When Whipkey, McCormick, George and himself had advanced the ball to the three-yard line, three plunges netted only two and one-half yards. Then the little general squared himself between center and guard for the score. O'Donnell failed to kick the goal.

A big crowd saw the game. Dunbar Township's supporters felt it had a wonderful opportunity to win and came here to give their team the fullest measure of moral support. The Red and Black warriors did not fall them and in spite of the defeat the visitors were well satisfied.

The victory makes the high school team the champions of Fayette county. The locals are at least three touchdowns better than Uniontown.

The lineup:
Connellville-6 D. T. H. S.-0
Harmon L D Puckett
Pierce L T Smith
Burkett L G Moody
O'Donnell C McLaughlin
Ozinsky R C Say
Lowrey R T Welsh
McClaren R E Teichert
Solson Q B Miller
McCormick R H Hooper
George L H V. Davis
Whipkey F B Valentine
Substitutions—Brown for Moody, J. Davis for M. Davis, Pritchard for Valentine, McDermott for George, George for McDermott.
Touchdown—Solson
Referee—Herwick
Umpire—Mastreaz
Headlinesman—Schaffer

Poisons returning from Pittsburgh last night heard the score was 7-0 in favor of Dunbar Township. The report certainly caused some headaches. A few did not learn differently until this morning.

The locals lose the men this season O'Donnell, Solson and McClaren.

The Torpedoes play at Uniontown tomorrow meeting the strong South Brownsville aggregation.

Billy Carter is working out every night before the crowd at his S. J. James gym. Towards the end of his training period he will likely be joined by Jackie Fromme to give him speed. Over 100 tickets have been purchased by the fair sex in Uniontown.

Yale next season will use the broader bladed American car in Eng. Hub-bull shells. Three hundred and twenty-five candidates turned out for last year's crew.

During the current golf season a total of 51 players holed out in one on various Canadian golf courses, and of the number three are women.

SCOTTDAL HIGH DEFEATS LATROBE IN FINAL BATTLE

MM Town Team Has Record of Eight Games Won, One Lost, One Tied.

Special to The Courier

SCOTTDAL, Nov. 25.—Scottdale High defeated its old rival, Latrobe High here yesterday by the score of 16 to 0. The game was played on a field heavy with mud as a result of the downpour of rain all morning. The soggy condition of the field made fumbles numerous on both sides. Scottdale outclassed the visitors in every department and had the field open in better condition would have run up a much larger score.

The first touchdown came in the first quarter, when line plunges by Murphy and Glenn took the ball to the 25-yard line, from where Byrne took it over.

In the second quarter two more points were added when Noon broke through.

Another touchdown was added in the last quarter after a Latrobe punt had been blocked on the 20-yard line. Goldenson taking the ball over after Valoy and Murphy had advanced it to the five-yard line.

For Scottdale's Murphy, Maloy and Noon were the stars while Turk played well for Latrobe. Captain Maloy, Glenn, Noon, Murphy, Burgett, Stoner and Gordon played their last game of high school football for Scottdale and the loss of these seven stellar players will be felt next year.

The game yesterday closes a very successful season for Scottdale, eight games being won, one tied and only one lost. The games played were:

Scottdale 0 Greensburg 49
Scottdale 13 East Huntingdon Township 0
Scottdale 51, Derby 0

Scottdale 19 Connelville 17

BRAINS USEFUL IN FOOTBALL

Rare Example Seen in Watching Thorpe, Tackled by Three Men After Long and Run.

In football a fellow has a greater chance to use his wits than in any other branch of sport. There are some instances during the game where he finds himself left entirely to his own initiative, as in the case when he is about to execute a forward pass and there is no one to pass to. After juggling the ball and ducking all the interference the opposing team has thrown his way the rest depends on the working of his brain.

A rare example of this was seen the other day while watching the great Thorpe tackled by three men after a long end run. The tacklers stopped him in such a position that it seemed certain he would be thrown back for a loss while only a man's length from the goal line. To the surprise of all on the side lines, instead of being thrown back onto the field, the Indian squirmed and twisted half way around in the men's arms and fell a foot over the goal line.

Thorpe is noted for his great kicking and running.

HORSE SHOWS INTELLIGENCE

Prince Lorne Saves His Pacing Muscles by Trotting Back After Poor Break/ways.

Prince Lorne, the eight-gaited champion of the world, uses human intelligence in handling his legs.

Before a pacing race he saves his pacing muscles by trotting back from the bad break-aways at the start, and before trotting a race he paces back.

This saves the muscles he is to use in the particular race ahead of him. Many other world's champion horses do the same. Stigley, a champion pacer, backs back from poor starts. Duke Archibald, champion trotter of a few years ago, used the trick of pacing back from the mark.

The Soft Answer.

"Oh, what's the use?"

"Use it."

"Of getting mad. You can bottle up your wrath. It is some fellow is pretty sure to come along with a cork screw."

Very Fresh.

"Are there eggs fresh?"

Fresh men? replied the voracious dealer. Why the hens that laid them eggs ain't even missed 'em yet.

A BLOOD BUILDER FOR TIRED WOMEN

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood—Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form.

When a woman overworks, either mentally or physically, there is a strain on the vitality. Getting up in the morning she feels low in spirits. Her eyes are dull, her complexion is sallow or pasty.

A few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken in regular doses is what will build up her blood.

The reason for this is known. It is simply that Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes blood rich and red. It has the things in it that make new blood and drive out the poisons in the system. Now blood makes new vigor and gradually the depressed feelings vanish, the natural healthy glow comes back to the skin and there is pleasure in living.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold at drug stores in liquid or tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package—Advertisement.

West Va. Operators Take Further Step In Check-Off Fight

A further step in the movement to secure a legal abolition of the "check-off" has been taken by West Virginia coal operators.

A petition requesting the issuance of an injunction to restrain and enjoin the activities of the United Mine Workers in the Mingo district, and to prevent operators from continuing the check-off system, has been filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia at Charleston.

The plaintiffs in the action are the Mingo Coal Corporation and 63 other coal producers, being the same plaintiffs as in a similar action brought before Judge Anderson at Indianapolis.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that sage tea and sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

MORE RAIL INQUIRIES

Are Made by Railroads for Needs for the Approaching Year.

Increased inquiries for rails are coming into the steel market. The New York Central railroad is in the market for 200,000 tons of rails and the Norfolk & Western for 40,000 tons. The Lackawanna Steel company is expected to get the largest share of the New York Central's contract.

The Pennsylvania railroad is about ready to put out its usual annual inquiry, which this year is expected to amount to 150,000 tons, and the Reading railway is making an inquiry for 20,000 tons of rails.

HANDBAGS MUST BE USEFUL

Compartments as Important as Style—Duvelyn Felt, Silk and Canton Creps, Materials.

Smart compact bags are the keynote of the novelties featured this season. Paris has set the pace for business appearing handbags, and American manufacturers have adopted this idea with variations to suit the needs of American women.

Bags are carried more for utility than for decoration by American women. It was pointed out, and therefore compartments are as important an element as the style. To give the bag effect and at the same time make it roomy has taxed the ingenuity of manufacturers, but they have succeeded admirably in combining the two. Bags are being made so small and at the same time spacious enough for toilet articles, that the term "vanity" is liberally applied.

The envelope bag, square and oblong shape, is the most stressed style, but bags on frames and draw strings developed in new materials are also conspicuously featured.

Duvelyn felt, silk and cotton crepe are three of the most popular materials used this season and are combined in many cases with steel beads. There is a strong tendency toward fur bags. Some manufacturers are bringing them out in American broadtail and the cheaper makers are approximating this by using fur fabrics or imitations.

FABRIC GLOVE IS APPROVED

Even These Accustomed to Wear Kid Have Declared Preference for Newer Handcovering.

The fabric glove has found favor with the most fastidious; even those accustomed to wear the kid glove exclusively have declared preference for the fabric glove for general wear. Led by the fancy kid glove, which has had its quota of success, the fabric glove has begun to be decorated in various ways. One of the new fads favor comes from France, and, strange to say, it has been developed with all thought for an American clientele. It is an armure of fine cotton which has been passed through an every process, leaving it with a velvety finish like a dull suede. It is said to be lighter in quality than the chamois, which is the one liked best in the heavier grades.

Among the shades preferred, gray and beige are now in the first rank with such differences in tones as shades in each color with white and black and, not infrequently, combinations of the two.

Why styles are different

STYLE in William III's period was the result of the character and thought of his age. The fashions of 1921—very different from William's reign—are the outcome just as surely of the spirit of the time.

Men who seek correctness in dress look toward styles which reflect this spirit. Designed and tailored in New York, Cortley Clothes possess beyond excellence of material and workmanship a distinction of style which expresses the assurance, the clean-cutness of successful men today.

DULLNESS IN STEEL MARKET HAS DONE NO HARM TO THE TRADE

Railroad Buying Now the Principal Feature; Ingot Production May Taper Off to 85%.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

For the past 30 days the steel market in general has been described as dull, but the dullness does not seem to have done any particular harm. In a few spots prices have receded a trifle, the recessions being smaller than in earlier months of the year. Production is quite well maintained, decreases being of small moment, while in spots there have been increases. Thus the National Tube company is operating six blast furnaces now as compared with four a fortnight ago.

The only really new factor in the steel market is railroad buying, which has been resumed on a moderate scale. In the past fortnight orders for between 5,000 and 10,000 freight cars have been placed, while the number being figured upon is still larger. This presumption of buying is due to liquidation in prices of cars rather than to any improvement there may be in the financial condition of the railroads.

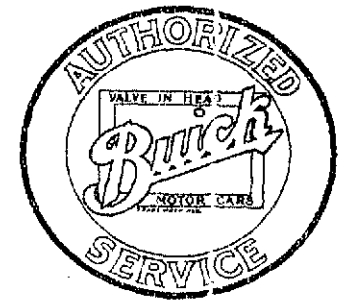

Steel ingot production is now at between 40 and 45 per cent of capacity, against an average of 44 per cent in October, the best month since February. Production may possibly taper off to about 35 per cent by the end of the year but it is far from certain that it will. Seasonal increase in demand is to be expected by about February 1, but to expect the steel industry to be called upon to operate at close to its full capacity in the near future is simply to invite disappointment.

In various steel products efforts have been made in the past two months to advance prices and scarcely a perceptible degree of success has attended any of these efforts. The prospect now being that improvement in the mill position, as to earnings, will come chiefly from lowering operation and reduction in costs. The prospective reduction in freight rates will probably come between January 1 and April 1, and will probably have been passed on to steel buyers in advance.

The Hold-Up.

Bessley left me sitting on the door-step—I've a notion he had run out of handcuffs, else he might have clapped a pair of them on me—while he started his posse down to Atropin with the captured raiders and their lender. When he came back we took time to Daddy and I and the big marsh, to size up the damage that had been wrought, and beyond that, to dig into the mystery of the continuous grumbling roar which was still ascending out of the wrecked mine shaft.

"Hokey!" He yelled. "Charley Bullerton's Dressed Your Mine for Ye!"

Bessley stayed with us, waiting, as I took it, to get his breakfast before he ran me off to jail, and the three of us fell to work clearing away the fallen timbers and roofing-iron. Daddy Hiram leading the attack and being the first to stick his head through what remained of the tangle and hang it over the edge of the shaft's mouth.

"Hokey!" he yelled, his voice bounding as if it came from the inside of a barrel; and then again, "Hokey, Bessley, see by the ghosts of old Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, Charley Bullerton's done gone and done egg-sactly what he said he could do—dressed your mine for ye! Climb in here and take a look at her. She's empty—empty as a gourd—but, at that, she ain't gold to be, very long!"

A few more minutes of the strenuous toil cleared the pit mouth so that we could all see. The bomb which had exploded in the shaft had wrought a complete transformation. The standing food, which all of our pumping attacks had failed to lower by so much as a fraction of an inch, was gone, and with it had vanished the two big ceatrufigals, the platform upon which they had stood, and their pipe connections. Gone, likewise, was the greater part of the heavy wooden shaft-lining. A little of this remained in the upper part of the shaft, but from a point possibly twenty-five feet down, there was nothing but the bare rock sides of the square pit swept by the receding food.

As for the hollow roaring noise which had followed the crash of the explosion, and which still continued, there was a good and sufficient reason plainly visible from the pit's mouth. Some twenty feet down, and on the eastern side of the shaft, a stream of water big enough to run a good-sized hydro-electric plant was pouring into the perpendicular cavern, and it was its plunging descent into the bowels of the earth which was making the mimic thunder.

Bessley was the first to find speech. "Where the blazes is all that water comin' from?" he exploded.

"That's just what we're going to find out!" I barked. "Can you and Daddy handle any weight in a rope sling?"

They both protested that they could handle two of me if necessary, and a sling was quickly rigged and I was lowered into the pit. At the nearer view thus obtained, some of the mysteries were instantly made clear. The reason why the wooden boxing disappeared below a certain point in the shaft was that it had never extended any further down. It had been merely a box with a bottom!—and all those pipe-dream impressions which had tried to register themselves on the day when I had my struggle with the suction-pipe octopus were instantly translated into facts. I could have sworn, then, that there was a bottom to the box, and there was a bottom. And that other impression—that I had encountered an rushing stream of ice-cold water in the chilling depths; here was the stream; a foot-thick, never-failing cataract, pouring through a perfectly good and substantial conduit of twelve-inch iron pipe!

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was
Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toombsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was delicate and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. Phillips, Toombsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes. Their condition affects both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nerve dependency, "the blues," irritability and backache come from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in overcoming this condition as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

which they did.

In this is reflected in the plot- ters and consequently called some- thing upon them. Father Jasper's ad- vanced age as a guarantee against any serious trouble. In fact, he was beyond that. He had recently dis- covered his own condition and had at- tempted to cure it by using some of the property to take the place of the lost. By carefully studying him, he con- sidered the case, to trust them.

Only numbers of what had occurred at this visit reached Jasper; but Bess- ley could testify that his grandfather had come and returned alone, and that after the pumping demonstration had been made he had seemed dis- posed to pass his time and to call it a bad day's work.

The later developments were not hard to figure out. Bessley was told that the proposed railroad branch to run to the new copper prop- erty in Little Creek gulch was now a certainty for the very near fu- ture. Hence the time was fully ripe for the recovery of the property by the plotters. So during the last week of the property, not directly by them- selves, of course, but by an agent who would figure as a disinterested third party—would be a way. Bessley said that there had been some talk of an underground drainage tunnel, such as Daddy and I had agreed upon—this at the time of the springing of the food trap—and that the plan had been in- formed at last. In fact, Bessley said that the plotters had arranged that an old man who had already charged his venture up to peak and loss would sell for a song rather than to continue making and in this they were probably well within the truth.

Furnace Ovens Take Lead of Merchants in Output, First Time Since Week March 16

Fire 1 p 1,624, Including Six Long Idle Plants, and Run Six Days.

GAIN FOR WEEK 6,150 TONS

Merchants Drop Behind by Having Out 228 Ovens and Running an Irregular Schedule; Relative Positions Depend Upon Developments.

From the Weekly Courier

The unlace coke producing plants not only regulated all they lost during the week ended Nov. 12 in the matter of output but they last week forged ahead of the merchant ovens for the first time within the past six months. Whether they will retain their present commanding lead depends upon the developments in the merchant iron and steel trade. If the present apathy continues, and watching for reduction in freight rates is persistently indulged until that new very uncertain storm comes to pass the probabilities are strong that the output of the merchant coke producers will not become materially larger than it has been for several weeks past.

Although a sanguine group of the merchant coke makers are moving along cautiously stilling but not at all ways successfully to keep within the limits of consumption, demand and at the same time be in position to take advantage of every favorable wind that may blow over the now rather quiet waters of the industrial sea.

The change in the relative positions of the two producing interests was brought about by the addition of 1,624 ovens to the active list of the furnace plants, and the observance of a full six-day running time schedule with two or three exceptions. This was aided by a reduction of 227 in the number of producing ovens at the merchant plants and further adherence to the policy of cutting down the running time to five, four, three, two or one day, as the contingencies require. The result for the region as a whole as expressed in terms of statistics, was an increase of 7,770 tons in the output of furnace ovens and a decrease of 1,620 tons at merchant plants. The net gain in ovens in blast was 1,397 and the net gain in production was 6,150 tons.

The record of last week was virtually the same as during the week ending March 19 when the coke trade began to slump off heavily and is better than during any intervening week the course having been steadily downward until the week of July 16 since which time it has climbed up laboriously to the starting point level from which it tumbled in the middle of March.

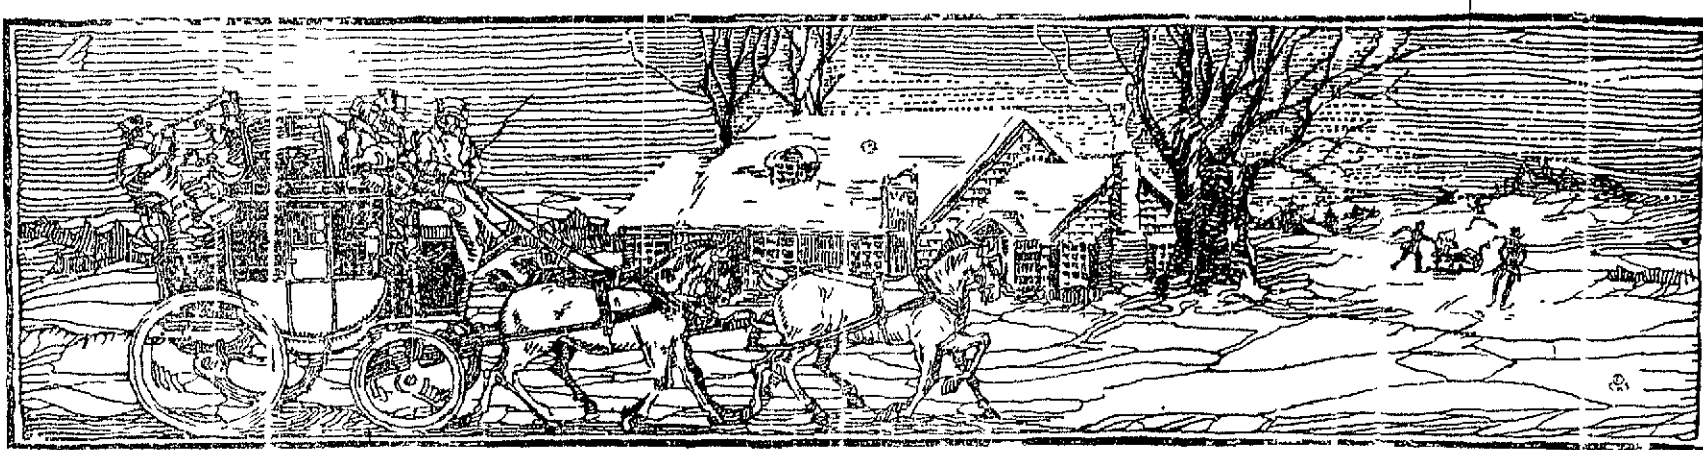

The further resumption of coking at plants of the H. C. Pick Coke company which have been idle since June 1 furnished 1,424 of the 1,624 ovens placed in the running by the furnace interests. Six plants with 930 ovens were returned to coke making, actively and 491 ovens at plants already in operation were fired up. By bringing 200 more ovens to production the Aika plant of the Pittsburg Steel company is now operating in full.

The 16 plants and 3,114 ovens of the Pick company which are producing coke after the longest idleness in their history represent a little over one sixth of the equipment of 19,030 ovens (light plants in the lower Connellsville district having a total of 3,901 ovens have been permanently set aside to the shipment of raw coal. The remaining 31 plants with 12,932 ovens are either still idle or are temporarily shipping coal. Of the nine independent furnace coke plants with 2,996 ovens four plants have 1,194 of them, 1,182 ovens in blast. Five plants with 1,516 ovens are engaged in shipping raw coal to by-product plants.

The estimated production of coke during the week ending Saturday, November 19, was 68,630 tons, credited to the two districts as follows: Connellsville 32,170, an increase of 6,250 tons; Lower Connellsville, 36,460, or increase of 700 tons. Total increase of 6,950 tons as compared with a net loss of 1,570 tons during the preceding week.

By interests the production of furnace coke 35,310 a gain of 7,770 tons; merchant, 33,340, a loss of 1,620 tons as compared with losses of 1,130 and 3,440 tons respectively during the week ended November 12.

While the H. C. Pick Coke company and the Pittsburg Steel company fired up 1,424 ovens, 227 were blown by merchant producers.

Christmas

IN YE OLDEN TIME it was the merrier patter of the horses' hoofs, brighter lights burning in the windows; or the cheery call of the postilion's horn that told the world Christmas was drawing near.

In this day and age the Holiday Spirit begins to awaken when the stores doll their ordinary prosaic garb and blossom forth bedecked with mistletoe and holly ready for the Season of Good Cheer.

Today finds Wright Metzler Store changed, overnight almost into a Land of Gifts. And today's ad first tells the story of how we have prepared for your Christmas.

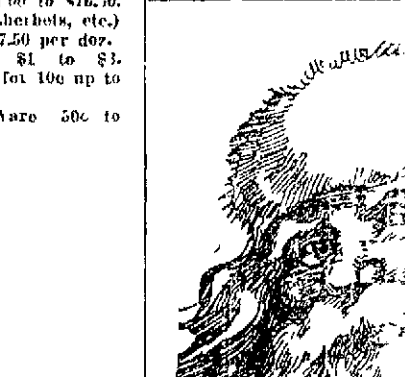

NECESSARILY we list but a meager portion of the gifts that await you here. The full appreciation of this Christmas wonderland can only come when you have visited the store and allowed your eyes to feast upon its treasures.

Begin now to make your Christmas list from the accompanying gift suggestions. Plan to shop early that you may shop at ease.

And rest assured that we shall try very hard to serve this season that you may find us—in fact as well as name—
